I am Louisville native and father of four and have been playing or coaching soccer for the past 27 years. I have been coaching for LSA's developmental program since 2009 and I love the opportunity to work with younger players who are just beginning to learn this wonderful game. As a coach, I strive to ensure that each player gets ample opportunity to practice the skills they will need to grow in the sport through fun and age appropriate small soccer games. I try to introduce practice activities that maximize the number of times each player touches the ball and that are dynamic enough to force our young future soccer stars to have to think and adapt to be successful.

I currently hold a USA Soccer E coaching certificate.
