PERSONAL STATEMENT

I believe in giving all of my players the time and tools to not only have fun playing and learning as a team, but to also ensure all of my players understand how to play the game safely and in the correct way. In competitive soccer, the hardest working and best fit players will get the critical minutes in a close game in order to ultimately win the game, however all players will be given the opportunity not only with significant playing time but also at different positions to make them a more complete soccer player

As your child's coach, my main objective over everything else is to make sure they are learning and enjoying their time playing soccer as I have since I was four years old. I will develop the unique talent of every player to its maximum potential and nurture their love and passion for soccer.

It is crucial that we quickly develop your child at this early age so that the game will come easy and natural to them as they mature. More important than winning games and scoring goals will be the little things like getting lots of touches on the ball, practicing proper footwork and skills on the ball, as well as playing with others and communication on the field.
